Reflection from Lewis University, Romeoville, IL:
How is your experience at Lewis University helping you grow?

Rachael N. Tracey '14

Graduate Student, Graduate Assistant

Throughout my time at Lewis University I have been able to grow as an individual and in my faith. I have had countless opportunities to develop my leadership and association abilities through all of the extra-curricular activities offered at Lewis, and made lifelong friends in the process. Most importantly, I have been able to serve others in the spirit of the Lasallian educational mission. Through University Ministry service opportunities and volunteer projects with student organizations, I was able to go into the community with my peers and help many people in the Chicagoland area. In addition to instilling a commitment to service within myself, Lewis University provided me with an exceptional education that allowed me to develop a well-rounded framework for my future, and I will always be grateful for that.
