

Dear Friends,

I write today to inform you that, after years of feeling called to return to the school setting and giving my all to the amazing work of Lasallian Volunteers, I will be leaving my position as Director to continue my commitment to education. Beginning July 1st, I will be a Teacher in Residence at Brilla College Preparatory in the South Bronx, where I will also be responsible for the creation and implementation of mission formation for staff of both Brilla and Seton Education Partners.

In the next month and a half I will be partnering with Brother Tim Coldwell and the staff of Lasallian Volunteers to ensure a smooth and healthy transition as we also prepare to see off the current volunteers and welcome the 2015-2016 Cohort. In the coming week, we will officially announce our search for the next Director of Lasallian Volunteers. In addition to my message, please take a moment to read the attached message from Brother Tim.

The past eight years as a member of the LV Staff has been a great blessing in my life, not to mention my three years serving as a Lasallian Volunteer. Being so deeply associated with the Lasallian Educational Mission for more than a decade has undoubtedly fueled my passions for justice and education, setting me on a path I had never envisioned for myself but continue to appreciate and enjoy immensely. I look forward to this next chapter in the history of Lasallian Volunteers as it continues to strengthen and develop as a premier formation program, inviting intergenerational partnership to shape the ways the Lasallian Educational Mission is lived and loved. It is my intention to remain a Partner in the Lasallian mission and continue to celebrate and explore Association as I begin my next steps professionally.

Thank you for your support, encouragement and partnership with me during my time with Lasallian Volunteers; and even more so, thank you for your continued belief in each of the past, current and future LVs who commit to "A Way to Change the World." I wanted to share this news with you as soon as possible, and Brother Tim and I appreciate your discretion as we work together to inform the larger network. Trust that I will continue to be a dedicated and involved alum and advocate as Lasallian Volunteers moves into the future.

In caring and service,

Jolleen C. Wagner, LV, 04-07
