- Mental health is a topmost issue in the lives of America’s young people. Religious leaders, parents and other trusted adults need to understand how faith, religion and spirituality can play an important role in combating the unfolding mental health epidemic. In this presentation, Dr. Josh Packard shares what Springtide Research Institute has learned from its research with thousands of young people and how we can center meaning, purpose and faith in order to prevent mental health issues from becoming mental health crises.
- 10:30 – 10:45 a.m. Break and Visit Exhibits
- 10:45 a.m. – 12:00 p.m. General Session: Reflecting on Faith and Mental Health with Gen Z
Fishbowl discussion facilitated by Marte Aboagye, Head of Community Relations, Springtide Research Institute, and Christian Camacho, Springtide Ambassador Program Facilitator, Springtide Research Institute

Research is great, but it's important to hear directly from young people about the ways mental health and faith come together in their lives. In this facilitated discussion, you'll reflect on some insights directly from young people and get a chance to ask questions of several members of this emerging generation.
